Here are some extracts: "The terrible night came, and I put on the war-paint with fear and trembling, on the war-paint with fear and trembling, and my eyes were double their size with excitement. I sang my couplets which open the second act of 'Trovatore'—and such applause! It was just like the Cincinnatians at the festival (bless them!). I had been told to make my first bow at a certain box, containing the princes and princesses, but for the life of me I couldn't tell which it was, so I stood still, as frightened as a grosse, and since, she was discharged, but upon hearing I stood still, as frightened as a goose, and then in my misery, I bowed first to the 'plebs.' Horrors! When I came to my senses. I bowed to the wrong box. After the third act I was recalled three Jesse Garth, for many years deceased. It is said that a distinct and accurate likeness of Mrs. Garth, who has been dead for twenty years, can be seen on a pane of glass in the times, and after the entire opera, we went out six times. The second time we sang, the public was even more enthusiastic, and I had to go out alone in answer to the cries of upper sash of one of the windows, presenting very much the appearance of a photograph negative. The discovery is said to have been made by a woman who was washing clothes had to go out alone in answer to the cries of 'Cary, solo.' They called for me alone, the first night, but I do not like to offend my sister and brother artists, so I went out with others at the end of the opera. I went out alone six times, and such shouting and waving of hats and handkerchiefs! My success has been the event of the season thus far. You see they thought that nothing special could come out of Yankeedom. When I say I am an American they think I mean South America, which I hasten to explain by telling them I am the Yankeest of Yankees, and in the yard, who imagined some one was watching her through the window, and went inside to see who it was. We gather these facts from Dr. Charles Brown, who has himself seen the singular picture. Dr. Brown remembers that about twenty years ago Mr. Garth told him that his wife, while standing at that window, was stunned by a sudden flash of lightning, and the dector's theory is ing them I am the Yankeest of Yankees, and that I was born among the rocks of dear old

TRYING ON NEW DRESSES FOR A LIVELI-HOOD.—A New York letter to the Baltimore Sunday News says: "In many of our large dry goods stores young ladies are performing in the ready made clothing department the duties of director, or "walker," nearly always a position filled by men. It is an agreeable change, as ladies have to try on the ready made dresses, etc. No more amusing sight is to be seen than ladies trying on these dresses. The female clocks are relected for dresses. The female clerks are selected for order issued yesterday in the Kings county court of sessions which have an important connection with the great scandal case. On last Saturday J. T. Marian, counsel for Jos. their appearance, and, therefore, are the finest-looking young women in the metropo-olis, invariably tall and slight, so that when they put on a magnificent dress for the sake Loader, the alleged perjurer, made a motion for the appointment of a commissioner to of displaying it to some probable customer, they look so elegant that one cannot but wish they could have the dress themselves; take the testimony of Jos. Richards, brother the fun is when the would-be purchaser tries it on to see how she looks in it-a dress designed for a tall, slim girl does look funny on a short, fat old woman; it seems to me al-most all the buyers are of that class. A girl was material to the defence, as they would testify that Mrs. Tilton had confessed to tried on no less than twenty-three dresses at Altman's, and then didn't make a sale. Waists of dresses are always cut for thin people, just as shoes are always cut for tuling people, just as shoes are always made for people with long, narrow feet. There is some talk of making skirts only, giving enough material to make a waist to fit the buyer, at which fat ladies will rejoice.

A WOMAN DEAD OF A BROKEN HEART .-The funeral ceremonies of the late James Atkins, which were to have taken place at his residence in Bramhall avenue, Bergen Heights, yesterday, were postponed by the tragic death of his wife, who, while preparing herself in her bedroom for the ceremonies in the parlor, fell dead on the floor. The medical investigation which followed resulted in the discovery that she died of a rup-tured blood vessel near the heart, and had literally died of a broken heart from exces-Brunt, in his official capacity as vestryman of Zion church, became enamored of Miss Jennie Bull, an interesting lady belonging to the church. Last spring Judge and Mrs. Van Brunt were divorced in Binghampton by Justice Balcom, of the supreme court, the sive grief. The funeral services were postponed until Sunday, when both will be buried in Greenwood. by Justice Balcom, of the supreme court, the cause being adultery, committed, according to an alleged confession to Mrs. Van Brunt, in Paris. The seperation was only nominal, at least apparently, Judge and Mrs. Van Brunt living for several weeks under the same roof at No. 27 West 30th street, and attending church terroling characteristics. SCANT AIR IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS .- In a paper read before the American Public Health Association at Baltimore, Professor E. W. Claypole of Antioch College, Ohio, says: "In the face of the sanitary law that same roof at No. 27 West 30th street, and attending church together. In July the Judge went to Europe and Mrs. Van Brunt into the country. At the same time Miss Bull sailed for Europe, professedly to obtain musical instructions. Two months afterward notices of the marriage of Judge Van Brunt and Miss Bull in Cambridge, Eng., appeared in the newspapers of this city. The rest is known.—N. Y. Commercial, 13th. 2,000 cubic feet of fresh air hourly are needed for a single person, yet we read of the public schools of Brooklyn where only from 108 to 24 cubic feet to each child possible, while the temperature ranges from 64 to 96 degrees, and in another from 80 to 95 degrees. Lunatics maintained at the public cost receive better treatment; criminals live in better condition. This is the sanitary education our children get, reciting lessons on ventilation in a po-luted atmosphere, or on the evils of tight lacing, to a teacher who disregards the laws." Still Undecided.—A special to the Boston Globe from Detroit, Michigan, November 12, DISGORGE.—The threatened legal campaign against the Browleyn ring, for the purpose of compelling them to make restitution to the city treasury, is not mere newspaper talk. It is a fact, and the proof of it is that the Attorney General has already taken the necessary preliminary steps to bring the de-fendants into court. The process may be a protracted and tedious one, but if the result be the same as that which crowned the suits against the Tweed ring, justice will be vindi-cated at last.—N. Y. Oor. Phil. Ledger.

There were 11 days of argument, and the jury were out two Cass avenue found a good thickness of cream on some milk that had been standing over night, and when the milkman made his usual call the pleased housewife exhibited the cream and said: "I never expected to see this." The man looked at the cream, winked wisely and solemnly, scratched his head, and replied: "Well, I don't know what alls it, but you can throw it out and I'll give you a fresh pint in its place!"—Detroit Free Press. A CURIOUS CASE—Men Led Into Crime by a Detective.—In the United States circuit court, criminal part, before Judge Benedict, this morning, Michael Boyle, James Maher, and Michael Teage, recently convicted of passing counterfeit money, were arraigned for sentence. They are all hardworking longshoremen of good character. In July last, it is alleged, Detective Drummond, of the secret service, acting under the name of Montgomery, induced them to pass several counterfeit silver coins and then arrested them for passing counterfeit money. HALF OF A CITY BURNED BY AN INCEN-DIARY.—An incendiary fire destroyed nearly half the city of Ellsworth, Kansas, Friday morning. The flames, owing to a gale of wind, swept everything in their way, and nearly all the buildings on the south side of Main street were hymned. Main street were burned. The loss will amount to $50,000, on which there is a slight

THE MALAYAN DIFFICULTIES seem likely to be "bridged over." It is now thought that the murder of Mr. Birch, the British resident, was unpremeditated, and the arm-ing of the Malays is described as only defen-sive. At the same time, the British garrison at Perak keeps its eyes open and its pow-counterfeit silver coins and then arrested them for passing counterfeit money. To-day they were allowed to tell their story, and they introduced a number of creditable witnesses to prove it. Their counsel moved that judgment be suspended, and Judge Benedict granted the motion, and in so doing said that if the prisoners had been allowed to testify on their trial they would not have been convicted, and that in his opinion the officers of the government should be engaged in the work of preventing crime rather than creating it.—N. Y. Commercial, 13th. Blobbs, speaking of an acquaintance whose stock of brains was heavily mortgaged, remarked: "Why, he's next door to a GALLANT FIGHT BY A SOLDIER.—A special to the St. Louis Republican from Kansas City says that one of the soldiers named lool, and sometimes moves in." sas City says that one of the soldiers named Bernhardt, reported killed in the fight with a band of Cheyenne Indians, near Fort Wallace, Kansas, two weeks ago, was found wandering on the prairie last Tuesday by a party of soldiers out hunting. He lost his horse in the fight and hid himself in the grass, but was afterwards found by two Indians, whom he kept at have ten hours with
